

Scott Lee for Liason Officer

Hello fellow MCR members! I'm Scott, a second year PhD student in Cancer Biology. Born and raised in Malaysia, I first came over to the UK to study for an undergraduate degree at King's College London. Prior to starting graduate study in Cambridge, I had the opportunity to go on a year abroad in the San Francisco Bay Area for an industrial placement.

During my first year in Cambridge, I was amazed by the number of events hosted by the MCR during fresher's week to welcome new students and how it managed to stay active throughout the academic year. Drawn to how welcoming and friendly everyone is at the MCR, I'm hoping to get more involved in college life this year and contribute to the graduate community by running for the role of Liason Officer.

Why me?

I was a student ambassador at King's College London for three years throughout my undergraduate degree, and in that period of time I've:

- Helped organize and run events (e.g. special talks) to engage the public.
- Represented the interests of the university during open days and other public events.
- Represented my fellow classmates at staff-student committee meetings to convey any concerns regarding course structure/organization.

If elected, I will seek to:

- Ensure smooth communication between the Downing MCR and external parties.
- Make sure that the views and concerns of the graduate community at Downing is heard by the college/university at large.
- Communicate with various college departments (such as accommodation and finance) regarding any issues that you might face.
- Faithfully represent the views of the MCR in external meetings and work to resolve conflicts in favour of the MCR.
- Assist the MCR in general duties and keep things running smoothly.
